You can see the latest addition to the Library by choosing this option. This search goes through the entire database for the search hence it may take little more time than normal searches.

On clicking Submit, the query condition is passed through a search engine to yield the search result. The result of all the searches can be either refined or printed. The matching documents are displayed on the screen. You may view further details of the document by selecting a particular document. If the document is part of a Multi-part collection, the Collection name is displayed next to the Accession Number in italics. If there is a Multimedia file attached to this document you may view the same by clicking on the icon. Please make sure that the appropriate viewer or application is loaded before viewing the multimedia file.

OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

OPEN ACCESS

Open access (OA) refers to free, unrestricted online access to research outputs such as journal articles and books. OA content is open to all, with no access fees.

There are two main routes to making research outputs openly accessible. One involves publishing articles or books via the OA route on a publisher's platform (often referred to as gold open access). The other involves archiving a version of the manuscript in an OA repository (often described as green open access). Content published via the gold OA route is accessible immediately on publication, while manuscripts deposited via the green OA route may, in many cases, be made accessible only once a self-archiving embargo

Stay Connected with the LIRC....Digitally!

Difficult times akin to the ongoing COVID 19 pandemic has made all of us rethink our survival. Although man is known to be social for ages; the lockdown defeated the very basic instinct of mankind – to be connected with one another at all times. This change led to a paradigm transition in the library too. We decided to take our library one up to the next level of accessibility by creating a Google Classroom for all students. We regularly post information on e resources, NPTEL videos, lecture series, DIY projects, Company Profiles in the virtual classroom. If you are still not a student of our LIRC Google Classroom, please do let us know.

Library Support for Researchers: Series 3: UGC CARE List of Journals

The Scope of the UGC-CARE List

- UGC-CARE has taken the responsibility of preparing the "UGC-CARE Reference List of Quality Journals" (UGC-CARE List).
- A list of Indian Journals, especially from disciplines of Arts, Humanities, Languages, Culture and Indian Knowledge Systems is being prepared and updated quarterly (UGC-CARE Group I).
- The UGC-CARE List includes journals from all disciplines indexed in globally accepted databases, such as indexed in Scopus (Source List) or Web of Science (Arts and Humanities Citation Index Source Publication, Science Citation Index Expanded Source Publication, Social Science Citation Index Source Publication). These journals are to be considered for all academic purposes. Journals indexed in Scopus and / or Web of Science are part of UGC-CARE List Group II.

To access the UGC CARE list of journals:
Go to <https://ugccare.unipune.ac.in/Apps1/User/lr/Registration> (Registration is Mandatory)
